

REASONS FOR ADMISSION TO RESIDENTIAL AGED CARE FROM COMMUNITY BASED SERVICES
SURVEY – JANUARY 2010

NAME OF FACILITY: (Optional) _____

STATE/TERRITORY: _____

REGION: _____

Aged Care Association Australia (ACAA) at a recent meeting of the Nursing and Management Professional Advisory Committee (NAMPAAC) members were discussing the frailty of residents when they are admitted to permanent residential care. It was determined that we survey members to attempt to identify the 'triggers' that prompt a person to move from the community where they are in receipt of a CACP, EACH or EACH D package to permanent residential placement.

Your assistance in completing this retrospective survey would be greatly appreciated.

During the past 12 months (During 2009), how many residents did you admit from community based services? If unable to give an accurate figure can you approximate?

How many residents did you admit from community based services via hospital? If unable to give an accurate figure can you approximate? _____

What were the trigger/s for the move to residential care? E.g. fall, acute episode of illness etc.

Are you able to estimate the length of stay of residents who are admitted from community based services to permanent care? If so, how long?

Has the frailty and acuity level of new residents increased? (Circle) YES NO

Thank you for your participation
